

EDUCATORS HEAR TALKS ON ALIENS

Citizenship Standards Discussed
at Wilson Normal School
Congress Opening.

Methods of maintaining a high standard of citizenship and fostering a love of government among the aliens of the United States, were discussed at the opening session of the Citizenship Congress at the Wilson Normal School yesterday. Delegates from 600 cities and 44 States listened to forceful addresses from District and congressional officials. Among the speakers were District Commissioner Newman, Louis F. Post, Assistant Secretary of Labor, Robert S. Coleman, Chief Naturalization Examiner, of St. Paul, Minn.; Raymond F. Crist, deputy commissioner of the Bureau of Naturalization; Commissioner Campbell, of the Bureau of Naturalization and Representative Clarence B. Miller.

On Thursday President Wilson will address the convention and business sessions are scheduled for each morning until Saturday. Following the opening session yesterday, the delegates were guests of the District officials on a sightseeing tour.

Today the session will be addressed by Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, Lieut. E. V. Stever, U. S. A.; President Samuel Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor; J. Henry Wagner, of the Bureau of Naturalization; E. A. Freeman, of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Philander P. Claxton, Commissioner of the United States Bureau of Education.

KEPT "BLUE LAWS" ON SATURDAY; IS RELEASED

Alexandria, Va., July 10.—Because Morris Loeb had his place of business open on Sunday he was cited to appear in the Police Court today for violating the old blue laws. After Loeb explained to the court that he closes on Friday evening and does not re-open until Sunday he was promptly acquitted by Justice Thompson, who held that inasmuch as he observed one day of rest he was entitled to open on Sunday.

A fine of $5 was imposed on Jacob Shapiro because the police alleged his place of business was open after midnight Saturday night. The court in imposing the fine, however, stated that should he appeal the case, to be heard next Friday, result in the decision of the Police Court being reversed, Shapiro will not have to pay the fine.

Miss Candler Marries.
Miss Edith Candler, the girl who attempted to see President Wilson and obtain the release of her soldier-sweetheart, Bugler Earl Wheeler, of Company L, District National Guard, was married to Wheeler in Alexandria yesterday by Rev. J. W. Duffy, of the M. E. Church South.

OUTING FOR WATCHMEN. Will Give Excursion at Chesapeake Beach July 14.

Bowling contests for women will be given. The strong woman's team from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, S. Kann's Sons, and others have entered. The committee of arrangements consists of A. J. Romapies, James A. Sheaffer, P. R. Connell, A. P. Grider, R. W. Guy, Mosby Williams and James P. Cochran.

OLDEST ELK WILL MARCH THURSDAY

M. G. McCormack Has Been in Local Lodge for Thirty Years.

Following a meeting of the convention committee of the local lodge of Elks, at Elks' Hall, on H street, last night, it was announced by Exalted Ruler William F. Gude that a delegation of about 400 members would meet at the Hall Thursday morning, at 7:15 o'clock, and march in a body to Fifteenth street and New York avenue, where there will be eight special cars to take them to Baltimore.

The delegation, accompanied by their families and a band, will leave Washington at 8 o'clock and arrive in the Monumental City in time to take part in the parade, which is to be the feature of the national convention of Elks, which holds its first business session there this morning. D. R. Nihon will be in charge of the parade from the local clubhouse. The procession will be led by Exalted Ruler Gude.

About 150 Washington Elks attended the public reception last night in Baltimore, which marked the opening of the convention program.

In the Washington section of the parade Thursday will be the city's oldest Elk, M. G. McCormack, who has held the office of treasurer for several years and has been a member ever since the local lodge received its charter thirty years ago.

Open house is being observed at Elks' Hall all week and several thousand have stopped off on their way to Baltimore. Friday is announced on the convention program as Washington day and large numbers are expected to visit the Capital. Arrangements are being made by local Elks to entertain about 3,000 brothers on that date.

Cut by Wireless Wire.

Saville, L. L., July 10.—Former Sheriff John S. Wells, of Cayville, while talking with three officers of the wireless station tonight, was seriously cut in the face by a stray wire of the wireless shaft.

HIGHWAY FILMS SHOWN AT POLI'S

Every Phase of Life and Activity of Capital City
Is Exhibited.

Washington as the seat of government, commercial city, pleasure resort and site of magnificent residences and embassies is ideally pictured in pictures in the 7,000 feet of the film exhibit, "The National Capital Prepared," shown for the first time at Poli's Theater, last night, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants' Association.

A distinguished audience including Vice President and Mrs. Marshall, Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker, Secretary of Commerce and Mrs. Redfield, and Postmaster-general and Mrs. Burleson demonstrated its appreciation by frequent applause. Secretary of War Baker summarized the prevailing opinion of the pictures in his statement at the close of the performance.

"I think these pictures are highly instructive and interesting and a credit to the organizations that made them possible."

Every phase of Capital life has been brought under the eye of the camera. It is the purpose of the films to show that the city is prepared commercially, defensively, socially. Every section of the city has been pictured.

Show Views at Capital.
Starting in at Philadelphia, the entrance to Washington on the Lincoln Highway, the film shows interesting views of Philadelphia, Chester, and Marcus Hook, Pa., Wilmington, Del., scenes along the Delaware River, Baltimore, Annapolis, and finally the picturesque roads of Maryland that lead to Fifteenth and H streets northeast, the Lincoln Highway entrance to the city.

Besides the buildings on Capitol Hill, prominent members of the House and Senate have been permitted to show their skill as moving picture actors and Speaker Champ Clark is only one of several who may be said to film well. All of the buildings housing the great, great activities of the government are next shown and in some of these the employees at work have been pictured.

In the commercial life of the city the large business houses, department stores, banks and hotels are shown with familiar action scenes on F and G streets, Pennsylvania avenue, Seventh and Ninth streets and New York avenue.

To show the educational facilities the Capital presents pictures of the colleges, high schools and private schools were exhibited.

A real thriller shows the District fire department in action from the time that an alarm is sounded until it has conquered a stubborn blaze. The police department and its officials also come in for prominence.

President Is "Reeled."

The beautiful structures housing the Embassies and the White House are shown with a specially posed picture of the President. Incidentally President Wilson will attend the performance to night and have the opportunity of seeing himself on the screen.

The camera takes the audience through the parks to Fort Myer, where stirring scenes of the cavalry in action and the local militia preparing for its trip to the border, are shown.

The closing scenes are at Newport News and Old Point Comfort, with some graphic pictures of life aboard government Dreadnoughts and the coast artillery operating coast defense artillery.

During the action of the film, every Cabinet officer and a large number of prominent government officials come under the lens. It is the first time that any comprehensive attempt has been made to depict the city's attractions with the aid of moving pictures and the film will be found especially attractive to those who have never had the opportunity to visit the Capital.

Performances will be given today and tomorrow in the afternoon and evening, and a special popular price has been fixed for the afternoon shows for the children. Following its exhibition here the film will be sent throughout the country as an inducement for those who are strangers to pay the city a visit.

FUN AT CAMP.

Boxing Match and Musical Are on Schedule for Tonight.

A hot boxing match will be staged tonight when Young Thomas, championbantam-weight of the South, private or Company B, will meet Kid McCauley, of Company E, in the company street or Company B at Camp Ordway.

Admission will be free and a fight worth the price of tickets at least is promised.

A piano and drum provided stirring music in the Y. M. C. A. tent last night. Earl Wheeler, bugler of Company L, was at the piano, and George Johnson, of Company G, sang. A musical by musicians from the Temple Baptist Church and the Third Infantry Band will be the attraction at the Y. M. C. A. tent tonight.
